

CARE INSTRUCTIONS FOR CACTI & SUCCULENTS

Needs BRIGHT LIGHT TO PART SUN exposure

- Cactus and succulent plants are very easy to care for, and because they are drought tolerant, they can survive (not flourish!) for several weeks at a time without water.
- Place your plant in an area well lit with natural light, such as on a windowsill or on a patio. Avoid intense, direct sunlight until plant has acclimitized to its new environment.
- Water when soil is dry to the touch, which is approximately every 7 - 10 days, indoors. Water less frequently during winter months, as this is the natural dormancy period of many plants.
- Fertilize with a half-strength general fertilizer once a month, if desired.

You can do it.
We can help.

For more information about cactus and succulent plants, visit www.CactusCollection.com