

Van Zyverden's
GRAND FREESIA & RANUNCULUS BLEND

We have combined two very popular bulb types to create a grand mixture of sorts. Freesia and Ranunculus pair well together, as their growth habits are similar. Freesias are available in a rainbow of colors. They are chosen for their visually stunning flowers and extreme fragrance, while buttercups (Ranunculus) are added for their peony-like blooms. Ranunculus are also available in a wide range of vibrant colors. Both varieties are easy to grow, deer resistant, and popular as cut flowers. A fun combination!

Excellent cut flower choice

Good for pots, containers or the garden

About This Variety: This grand mixture is a combination of both bulb types, in all of the colors commercially available, including reds, whites, golds, oranges, yellows and pinks.

Growing Instructions: Plant about 16 bulbs per square foot. They can also be grown in pots indoors. They look best grouped. Extend the blooming season in a cut garden by planting a few bi-weekly as they bloom about 10-15 weeks after planting.

Care Tip: Soak the corms in luke warm water overnight before planting to jump start development. Plant after danger of frost. Plant the ranunculus with the 'claws' pointing downward. In USDA zones cooler than 9, the corms will not survive the winter and thus they should be dug up should you want to over winter them.

Exposure: Full sun to partial shade

Height: Grows 12-16" tall

Spacing: Plant 4" apart, 2-3" deep

Hardy in: USDA zones 8-11

Guaranteed to grow 1 year from purchase if directions are followed. Any concerns related to quality and/or counts feel free to contact us.
