

tierra verdeTM MC MR

BENEFITS OF SELF-WATERING PLANTERS

Self-watering planters are designed to minimize water losses through seepage or evaporation. This environment supports a healthy root system with a steady dose of water while retaining soil nutrients that are traditionally lost through seepage.

- Reservoir holds ample water, turning watering your plants into an occasional task
- Wicking basket waters plant as needed to prevent water stagnation and root rot
- Overflow valve prevents over watering
- Removeable drain plug allows indoor or outdoor use

