Unpack your Willow Edging and it should look like the following image:

Using the two stakes at the ends of the item, push them into the area you decide to put your Willow Edging. Only push your Willow Edging into the ground if your soil is soft and loose. If you have hard soil, we would recommend getting a thin metal stake, long screw driver, or any object thin and long enough to put in, and hammer it into the ground. This will create the two holes you need in order to install the Willow Edging.

If you are using multiple pieces of Willow Edging, we would recommend using some wire or a zip tie to secure the Willow Edging Stakes together. You may put the stake next to the other Willow Edge piece into the same hole as the other one. Always be sure to backfill the holes together to secure the Willow Edging. A picture description is shown below. Zip ties and wires are not included.
