Tempered Glass Characteristic

Due to the manufacturing process, glass will tend to have a greenish tint; this is a natural feature and is not considered a defect. As a result of the tempering process or otherwise, color variations in glass may occur in certain products.

Stone Characteristics

Color and Pattern Variations in stone are a natural occurrence. Natural occurring stone characteristics such as variations in grain, color, mineral streaks are not considered as defective product.

Finish and Wood Characteristics

All wood naturally ages, darkens changes color and mellows over time due primarily to exposure to light. While this color change is imperceptible from day to day, it may be significant over a longer period, or due to amount of light, the wood is exposed to. On warranty replacement doors or drawers, we will not guarantee an exact color match. In addition, imperfections such as checks (small surface splits), pitch pockets (small dark holes) or darker mineral streaks are natural and are not considered defects.
