

STUDIO SHED CARE AND MAINTENANCE

With proper care and maintenance, your Studio Shed is designed to look and perform years down the road as well as it did the day your installation was completed. Below are some recommendations to keep your Studio Shed in optimal condition.

- Keep grass and vegetation trimmed around the exterior of your Studio Shed.
- Ensure that your Studio Shed remains above grade - do not pile soil or dirt around the base of your Studio Shed.
- Do not stack anything against the exterior of your Studio Shed.
- Locking doorknobs should be lubricated seasonally with graphite or similar to ensure smooth operation.
- Do not allow sprinklers to spray directly against the exterior of your Studio Shed.
- Inspect paint and maintain as necessary. Studio Shed uses a commercial grade exterior paint, which should last for many years. Touch-up may be necessary depending on your exposure and climate.
- Pre-primed doors from our factory must be painted within six months to qualify for manufacturer warranty.
- Inspect exterior caulking and sealing around windows and doors annually, reseal or re-caulk as necessary. Frequency depends on exposure and climate.
