

VECTORUTV

FAQ

Who makes the Vector 500?

Hisun Motors Corp, USA

- Years in Business: 25
- Final Assembly in Dallas, TX in 300,000 Square Foot Facility
- 31 Point Inspection after assembly
- 75,000 Square Foot parts warehouse
- 2013-2015 8th largest supplier of UTV's in USA
- Original Equipment Manufacturer for some of the largest UTV suppliers in the world

Who makes the engine in the Vector 500?

- Hisun Motors Corp, USA
- 471cc Delphi electronic fuel injection overhead valve powersports engine.
- Continuous variable transmission with HI/LO range. No changing of gears.

What is the warranty?

The warranty is a limited 1-Year parts and labor. Please see the complete warranty for limitations and exclusions

Where do I get my Vector 500 Serviced?

Each store will have an authorized service provider within a reasonable radius of the store to perform Vector 500 warranty service and maintenance.

What is the top speed of the Vector 500?

The top speed is about 45 MPH.

Is my Vector 500 street legal?

No. The Vector 500 UTV comes with turn signals, horn, lights, windshield, and mirrors. However, to qualify as a LSV (Low Speed Vehicle), it must have a top speed of 25 MPH or less. Check your local laws on the governing of LSV's.

Are there additional accessories for the Vector 500?

Yes. You can find additional accessories at www.homedepot.com

Where can I get parts?

Parts and maintenance items can be purchased through the local service center. Find your service center at www.vectorutv.com

Is there a tech service line for questions?

Yes, your Vector support line is below.

866-447-6224

Vector Store Support Line

Or email us at vector@hisunmotors.com

