

Van Zyverden's
GLADIOLUS COLOSSAL, LARGE-SIZED FLOWERING RAINBOW MIXED

Today's Gladiolus (or simply 'glads' as they are quite often called) are larger and more beautiful than varieties years ago and produce lush sword like foliage. They appreciate the warm weather of summer and are very easy to plant and grow. Gladiolus come in a wide selection of classic colors as well as the newest bi-colors or tri-colors. After the danger of frost has passed, you can plant them all at once, or plant them bi-weekly for continuous flowers throughout summer. They are best planted in groups and make for excellent lavish florist quality cut flowers.

Beautiful cut flower

About This Variety: Gladiolus are tall stunning plants with long, sword-like foliage. These are easy to grow flowers that will brighten any garden for months to come. Gladiolus Rainbow Mixed is made up of a variety of colorful blooms. The blend contains colossal sized flower bulbs. Its breathtaking mixture of vibrant yellows, deep reds, and blue-violet blooms are a sight to see. These large flowers offer a burst of color to cut flower arrangements and borders.

Growing Instructions: Choose a well-drained, sunny location. Planting them at their optimum depth of 8" will help anchor them against strong winds. Plant them in rows, circles or whatever makes for a nice display. Flowers will come in 70-100 days. In USDA zones 6 to 7, they will thrive as well if protected by a layer of mulch throughout the winter. They love to be fertilized.

Care Tip: Staking may be required. In more northern zones, dig up the corms (bulbs) after the season, remove soil, dry and store the bulbs indoors until next season.

Exposure: Full sun to partial shade

Height: Grows 38-60" tall

Spacing: Plant 6-8" apart, 6-8" deep

Hardy in: USDA zones 8-10
