

Nothing brings people together like the warmth of a fire.

OHIO  FLAME

T There's something about the simple elegance of an open fire. It brings friends and families together, much as it's done for thousands of years. It's the perfect social centerpiece for anyone's outdoor space. Around the fire, people can unwind, share stories and enjoy memories with loved ones. There's nothing quite like sitting around a wood burning Fire Pit enjoying the radiant warmth on a cool evening and taking in the aroma of the burning wood. Everybody loves an outdoor space that is relaxing and inviting. Because everyone's space is unique, we offer a full line of custom made Fire Pits available in many sizes.

Ohio Flame is located in Northeastern Ohio, an area once known for its vibrant steel production. Often referred to as the “Rust Belt”, this area is redefining itself with arts and culture, all while still honoring their steel roots with a steadfast work ethic. Ohio Flame embraces their local ties and crafts their products from heavy gauge American steel sourced from domestic steel mills.

Heavy gauge American steel means quality. Ohio Flame designs their products with high quality American steel to ensure their Fire Bowls will last a lifetime against whatever nature can throw at it. The thickness of the steel varies based on the size and model of the Fire Pit, but generally ranges from 3/16” thick up to 1/4”.

a durable welded design that have no parts to assemble or wear out over time.

Products featuring a natural steel finish will develop a wonderful iron oxide patina, which naturally will darken slightly over time. This process only occurs at the surface level, so your Fire Bowl will not rust through, warp or rot.

The result is a unique 100% American Made product that is built to last a lifetime. Ohio Flame chooses to purchase fabrication materials, manufacturing equipment and packaging supplies based on the Buy American ideal and prides themselves in working with local vendors and companies in order to support their local economy.

Their in-house artist designs, creates and welds all of the products so you can be assured that it is a hand-made piece of art.

Ohio Flame guarantees that the steel of the Fire Bowls will not rust through in your lifetime. Their Fire Pits feature Tough, reliable and 100% American Made, Ohio Flame Fire Pits are crafted by a local artisan. These Fire Pits combine sleek and modern styling along with the American quality and durability that you can expect from Ohio Flame. With no parts to break or wear out over time, their Fire Pits are built to last a lifetime. They use American steel sourced from local mills that is designed to withstand the elements year-round. No maintenance is required. Their Fire Pits and Fire Bowls feature a substantial Rain Drain to allow for water drainage.

Ohio Flame also offers a line of accessories including quality American Made spark screens, tools and cook grates that are specially designed for all of their Fire Pits.

“I was surprised and happy to find an American Made Fire Pit - and made right here in Ohio made it all the better. I’m happy to be able to support your company and the American Made ideal. I always buy American first if possible!” — Virgil (Farmersville, OH)
